

MINORITY HEALTH ADVISORY COMMITTEE APPLICATION FOR YOUTH AMBASSADOR APPOINTMENT

The Minority Health Advisory Committee (MHAC) invites applications from Minority Youth living in Rhode Island. To apply for Minority Youth ambassadors, ages of applicants should range between 16 to 22 years. The MHAC will appoint up to four Youth Ambassadors to serve on the Advisory Committee for a term of one school year (September 2010-June 2011).

A MHAC Youth Ambassador represents his/her school and community by:

- Attending at least 9 monthly MHAC meetings, held on the fourth Wednesday of each month from 3:00pm-5:00pm. (No meetings in July and August)
- Providing input that surrounds minority health issues, programs and policies, based on their knowledge or experience.
- Undertaking a related project or making a presentation about Minority's health topic in his/her school or community.

The Office of Minority Health at the R.I. Department of Health helps to facilitate access to health information, education and risk reduction activities for racial and ethnic minority communities and to develop policies, plans and tracking systems for ensuring that the needs of these communities are integrated and addressed within all HEALTH programs.

The Minority Health Advisory Committee shall provide direct advice to the Director of Health; and indirect advice to the Department's senior administrators and planners through the Director regarding the health of racial and ethnic minorities.

The Youth Ambassador selection process will be based on applicant's prior experiences, community representation, and on his/her interest and activism in eliminating health disparities, and working to achieve Health Equity.

An interested applicant should:

- (1) Complete a one page application form
- (2) Submit a one-page letter of introduction about himself or herself
- (3) Provide a summary of his/her work or activism related to eliminating health disparities and/or achieving health equity
- (4) Submit a personal letter of reference
